How might this quote from Trinity’s mission statement apply to your work with the OLS?
“Genuine education must involve the whole person as a thinking, feeling, and believing creature...{and we} seek to graduate students who are well equipped to bring the discipline of rigorous academic work into their chosen vocations and the practice of Christ-like service toward others into their personal and public lives.” (Please supply a complete paragraph of response.)
Working for The OLS involves a high degree of confidentiality and responsibility. You may be working with a student who is experiencing academic or personal stress. Interaction with professors may be required. Please write a brief letter of introduction, including why you wish to serve in this capacity, your personal style of communication and experiences you may have had which have prepared you for this position.
